Challenge

Hypo Alpe-Adria-Bank needed to address the growing customer needs for "anytime, anywhere" banking access throughout the country. To do this, the bank needed a convenient and innovative integrated authentication platform to secure its internet and mobile banking, while also offering a flexible, future-proof framework for adding multi-factor authentication to respond to current and evolving online threats.

Solution

HID Global helped Hypo Alpe-Adria-Bank implement two-factor authentication for its innovative mobile banking solution. This deployment of HID Global's ActivID Authentication Appliance was a critical component for providing customers with peace of mind when accessing banking services from anywhere and from multiple devices. It also strengthened Hypo Alpe-Adria-Bank's multi-channel strategy by applying consistent security across multiple service channels, thus adhering to common best practices for online banking.
