Challenge

"North Lantau Hospital is a public hospital in central Tung Chung, on Hong Kong Lantau Island. It was completed in 2013 and began services on September 2013 to cope with Tung Chung district's development and meet the community's medical needs. This hospital has 24-hour accident and emergency service and inpatient service as well as diagnostic and treatment facilities. Ambulatory care services including specialist out-patient clinics, primary care clinics, a day rehabilitation centre, an ambulatory surgery/day procedure centre and community care services will also be provided by the hospital. North Lantau Hospital is a local community hospital so there is no tremendous support from the government. As the result, the project itself is competitive among medical related tender. "

Solution

Due to the large demand on door lock and security level, ASSA ABLOY Hong Kong offers ASSA Cyliner to the client to protect the expensive medical devices and restricted medicine & supplies. The hospital also requires a comprehensive security system to limit strangers' and patients' entry in certain rooms and areas in the building.
